

Uncle Louie's new eatery goes high profile

Uncle" Louie Skorish has made a success of his Uncle Louie's Brick Oven Pizza for more than 12 years, even with the tiny restaurant hidden way in the back of the Terravita Marketplace on the edge of Carefree.

Credit the excellent hearth-baked thin-crust pizzas, fire-roasted chicken, imported pastas, hearty sub sandwiches and West Texas dry-rubbed barbecue for his legions of fans.

As of next week, Skorish will be going a little more high profile, with a sister shop opening at Scottsdale North Marketplace. Uncle Louie the Restaurant will occupy 2,250 square feet at the AJ Fine Foods center, on the southeast corner of Scottsdale and Lone Mountain roads.

It's clear the chef is having fun with

It's clear the chef is having fun with this free-wheeling menu, with bites like Cajun oysters, St. Louis-style ravioli, Maryland crab cakes, hand-cut sweet potato fries, roasted free-range chicken with cucumber relish, osso bucco with polenta, spaghetti and meatballs, and of course, pizza, fire-baked on a stone.

488-1609, uncloulouie.com.

this free-wheeling menu, with bites like Cajun oysters, St. Louis-style ravioli, Maryland crab cakes, hand-cut sweet potato fries, roasted free-range chicken with cucumber relish, osso bucco with polenta, spaghetti and meatballs, and of course, pizza, fire-baked on a stone.

There's a lengthy wine list, too, featuring California and Italian favorites.

Uncle Louie's Brick Oven Pizza will remain open for more its casual offerings.

Details: Uncle Louie the Restaurant, 31313 N. Scottsdale Road, Scottsdale, 480-595-1122. Uncle Louie's Brick Oven Pizza, 34522 N. Scottsdale Road (in Terravita Marketplace), Scottsdale. 480-

CAREY SWEET